

A CIVIC COLLABORATION OF THE ARTS, HUMANITIES, AND RELIGION

Spirit & Place

CIVIC FESTIVAL

The Spirit of Women: Rooted in Generosity, Engaged in Social Change

Monday, November 12, 2007
5:30 – 8:00 pm

Madame Walker Theatre Building ballroom
(Fourth Floor)
617 Indiana Avenue
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

This interactive program will feature Judy O'Bannon, former First Lady of Indiana, and will showcase the stories of ordinary women doing extraordinary things.

The Spirit of Women: Rooted in Generosity, Engaged in Social Change

Women have invested their time and talent in social change efforts for centuries. Today, they can add a third resource—treasure. As women earn and inherit more wealth, new women-centered forms of philanthropy have blossomed. Innovative models, such as giving circles and women’s funds, offer collaborative and accessible ways to contribute.

This interactive program will feature Judy O’Bannon, former First Lady of Indiana, and will showcase the stories of ordinary women doing extraordinary things. Small group discussions will help women prioritize their giving goals and develop new ideas. A resource fair will highlight volunteering and giving opportunities among local nonprofits.

Schedule:

5:30 – 6:00 pm	Resource fair
6:00 – 7:30 pm	Program
7:30 – 8:00 pm	Resource Fair

Admission is free, but space is limited;
RSVP to philsvs@iupui.edu by October 31, 2007
Questions? Call 317-278-8990 or email lawsons@indiana.edu.

A light supper will be available for purchase.

Presented by the Women’s Philanthropy Institute at The Center on Philanthropy at Indiana University, Central Indiana Women’s Business Center, Girls Inc., Impact 100, IUPUI Office for Women, United Way of Central Indiana, and Women’s Fund of Central Indiana, an affiliate of the Central Indiana Community Foundation.

